

How to use the Stingray app

Step 1: Download the Stingray app

Go to the Apple app store, or to the Android app store, and type in "Stingray Music."
You should see an icon that looks like the one in the image on the right.

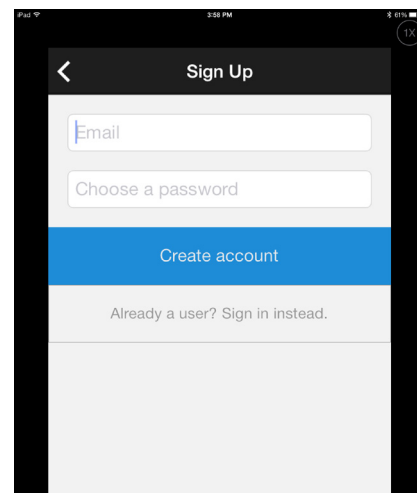

Step 2: Sign up

Click on "Sign Up" when you open the app for the first time.

Step 3: Create an account

Fill in a valid email address and choose a password, then press "Create account."

Step 4: Provider confirmation

After you've accepted the terms of reference, you'll be asked if your TV provider (i.e. CityWest) gives you access to Stingray channels on your TV. Select "Yes, continue for free service."

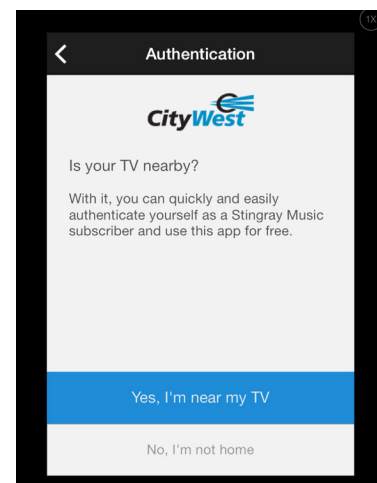

Step 5: Select CityWest

Press the "CityWest" icon when you're brought to the TV Provider screen.

Step 6: Get near to your TV

Go to your TV and turn on any one of the Stingray channels (797-899). Turn the volume up on your TV and select "Yes, I'm near my TV."

Step 7: Microphone access

The Stingray app will ask to access your device's microphone. Make sure your device's microphone isn't covered up and select "OK."

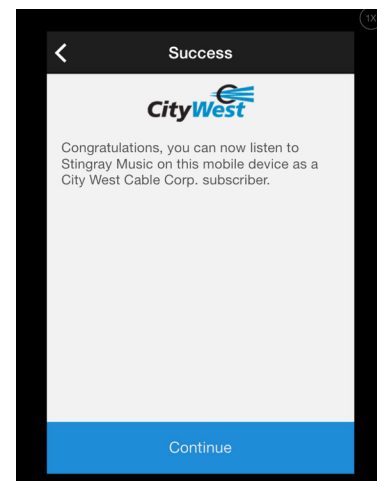

Step 8: Signal quality

Stingray will determine the quality of the signal, based on how close your device is to your TV. If you see a "Weak" signal, simply move your device closer to your speakers.

Step 9: Success!

Once the Stingray app has determined you are indeed a subscriber, you'll see this congratulatory screen. Just press "Continue."

Step 10: Choose your tunes

This is the most difficult step of all: figuring out what music you want to listen to with 100 channels to choose from.

Select a category (jazz, rock, etc.), and you'll be brought to a selection of great channels in that genre.

Once you select the channel, you'll be listening to great music that you've come to expect from Stingray.
